Sizing Jackets

Not sure what size to order? All you need to do is grab a tape measure and follow the guidelines below. And if by chance you did order the wrong size, don't worry, just exchange it for the right one.

A Chest:

Measure around the fullest part of your chest, passing the tape measure loosely under your arms and making sure it feels comfortable and not too overtight.

B Sleeve:

Measure from the end of your shoulder to the base of your thumb. (Alternatively take a jacket that already fits well and measure the sleeve length).

Use your measurements to work out "Your Order Size" from the tables on the right.

(Note: For Mens Longer Length Jackets you will most likely be over 6ft tall and some).

Sizing Trousers

Not sure what size to order? All you need to do is grab a tape measure and follow the guidelines below.

C Waist:

Without bending measure around your waist making sure the tape measure feels comfortable, not overtight or too loose.

D Hips:

Measure around the widest part of your hips and bum.

E Outside Leg:

Biking trousers are designed to sit higher than everyday trousers. To work out your correct outside leg measurement, find a point halfway between your waist and the top of the waistband of a normal pair of trousers. Without bending, measure from this point over your hip bone right down to the bottom of your feet.

Use your measurements to work out "Your Order Size" from the tables on the right.

(Note: If all your measurements do not correspond to one specific order size, try to get the best match for Your Hips measurement).

Sizing Helmets

It's easy to find the helmet size to fit you. Helmets should fit snugly on your head even if you've got big hair. Ideally pressure should feel firm and even all over.

To find the right helmet size, measure all the way around your head at the widest part from the front of your forehead right around the back of your head and back to the front again, keep the tape measure above your ears as shown (F) and make sure it feels firm but not overtight or too loose - all measurements in centimetres (CMs).

Sizing Gloves

It's easy to find the glove size to fit you, but remember if you are planning to wear undergloves as well you may want to go up a size for comfort:

To find your glove size, slightly clench your hand and measure your hand in a loop as shown, at the fullest part of your palm (H), bring the tape measure all the way round until it joins back at the beginning - if you fall in between sizes, choose the larger one - all measurements in centimetres (CMs).

Sizing Boots & Shoes

It's easy to find the right shoe size, just follow the steps below and have fun. Remember to wear your normal riding socks and if you're an all-year-round type you might want to make a bit of allowance for the winter woollies.

Sole Measurement:

Place both feet (in your normal riding socks) on a piece of paper and carefully draw the outline of each foot. Make sure you keep the pen pointing straight down to get a true outline! Then measure the lengths of both outlines from the top edge of your big toes to the back edge of your heel. If your two feet measure differently, take the longer of the two measurements and that's your size - all measurements in centimetres (cms).

Use your measurements to work out "Your Order Size" from the tables on the right. On this page all measurements are in CMs.
